FROM THE PEBELS DESIRED ARDENTLY-EFFECT OF THE INVASION-JUDGE YEAMAN A WHOLE TEAM FOR THE GOOD CAUSE-GLO RIOUS MEETING AT WHITESVILLE.

OWENSBORO, Oct. 21, 1861. Editors Democrat-Gentlemen: Matters have assumed a decidedly military aspect in the Second Congressional District. She promises to be the banner district in the way of raising troops. There is no longer any fear of the destruction of locks numbers on and two, they being secured by a compet at force.

At lienderson, besides a regiment of Indiana troops stationed there, Colonel J. M. She kelford is rapidly filling up a regiment of Keptucky volunteers. At Owensboro Coionel Jackson is organizing his regimen of eavalry, and Colonel Burbridge his regiment of infantry. At Calhoon, Colonel Hawkins has about filled his regiment of infantry, and at Hartford, Colonel John H. McHenry, an energetic young man of this county, and a true military man, is rapidly filling up his regiment, making five regiments that will be filled in four contig uons counties. Many of 'the recruits come in from the counties south of Green river, where they have been driven from their bomes by the violence of Secessionists and Confederate soldiers.

You will see, by reference to the map, how esaily these forces might be concentrated, and how important they might become in certain contingencies. Many of the people are constantly fearing a sudden inread of Confederates, in superior numbers, from Bawlinggreen, Russellville, or Hopkins-any emergency. It is gratifying to observe the effect the invasion has had upon the Union sentiment of this county. So far from being weakened or intimidated, the Union men have maintained their numbers, and grown in bold ness and determination. They are holding meetings and having speeches from their best men. At the meetings, whenever a company of home guards armed with Uncle Sam's guns, or a squad of Col. Jackson's cavalry, comes in view, the shouts of men, women and children for the Union, for the officers, and for their representative, Judge Yeaman, do fairly make the woods rips. The healthy tone of the Union sentiment in this county, which was redeemed from the glory enough for one day. where he so distinguished himself that he Seceders in August, is attributable in great part to the firm stand he took on the stump in Jary and August, and in the recent ses

Quite a number of gentlemer, professors and smateurs, have left their names at McCarrell's music store as very enthusiastic in so good a work, and others, it is known, intend to volunteer. We do not Committee, heretofore organized, to wit: suppose it is designed that only male voices shall engage on this occasion, and we are requested to say that lady volunteers will he gladiv received. There are hundreds of lady musicians in the city, among whom, doubtless, are some who would rejoice to throw in their mite in aid of the good cause. If there are any they will please leave their names at the Central Music Store.

THE LADIES' MESTING THIS MORNING The loyal women of Louisville and Jefferson county will meet this morning at eleven o'clock in Masonic Temple, to complete an organization, appoint committees, and make such arrangements as may be found neces Eary to carry out the objects had in view in organizing this association. We trust our lady readers will all attend and be present in time. Leave home in time to be at the hall exactly at, or even before, eleven o'cleck-net start from home at that hour. It is not necessary for us to say anything of the deep importance of this movement, for we believe our loyal women all feel it to be a matter of great moment.

New Book .- We are indebied to Maxwell & Co., Main street, just above Fifth, for a copy of Lady Maud, the Wonder of Kingswood Chace, or Earl Gower or the Sacre: Marriage, by Pierce Egan, one of the most popular writers of action in England, who has produced several works of note, such as "Snake in the Grass," "Lady Blanche," "Love me, Leave me Not," "Ada Leigh, or the Love Test," &c. The style is pure and free from taint, the diction is elegant, the plot is well conceived and developed, and the book never flags in interest. It is published by the house of T. B. Peterson & 78th Pennsylvania regiment, called on us and Market, will commence this morning

THE MEETING LAST NIGHT .- The meeting last evening at Thrner Hall was a tremen dous gathering of the up-town patriots. They were richly rewarded, too, for never did a crowded Hall in Louisville resound with more thrilling eloquence than did Turner Hall last night. W. G. Reasor and Col. W. P. Boone have ever been popular as men and orators: but, rising with the great occasion produced by this terribly wicked rebellion, they are making speeches which would do honor to any patriot orator in the world. They are producing an effect such as no speeches have produced since the gifted Holt spoke here.

The farmers who live along down the road near the rebel lines tell some rich stories of the rebel leaders. For instance, they say that the ponderous Humprey Marshall The following gentlemen have been escaped to the rebel camp by disguising boot, both full of holes. Part of the way he was brought in a buggy; but the critical part of the road he iravelled in the above all of which hear marks of truth. They say when he heard that the numbskulls and dastards to whom he trusted for stealing trains to transport his troops to Muldrough's Hill, had burnt bridges and exaggerated Rousseau's handful of men into an army ten thousand strong, and thus caused him to stop at Green river and loose his golden ouportunity forever, his rage came near proving fatal to himself and two or three of the culpri's who had fled to him.

You may expect to hear of hot work out here shortly. I believe a serious fight will PRONOUNCED BY take place very soon. This division is beginning to feel its strength and to desire to use it. The distance between us and the rebels will be very materially shortened in a day or two, and if Buckner's men are as keen for a fight as I think they are, he cannot help but fight.

The Ohio Fourteenth, Colonel Steedman and six pieces of artillery left Camp Dick Robinson on Saturday morning, and, by a forced march last night, reached this camp early this morning. We found the Ohio Seventeenth, Colonel Connell, and the Indi-ana Thirty-third, Colonel Coburn, here. with Garrard's regiment-only about 700 efficient men.

When we reached the camp, firing was heard, and we hurried to the scene of action. We found the Indiana boys doing terrible execution. In a short time the heavy guns were wheeled to the front, and spoke louder than all others. Soon the firing ceased, and the wounded began to arrive at the hospital, where, under the care of Dr. W. C. Daniels. Dr. Slost, Dr. Schenck and others, their wounds were dressed. While engaged in aiding the surgeons, we

A correspondent of the Gazette, writing from Montgomery county, beyond Mt. Sterling, on the 22d, gives the following information:

You may look out for stirring events within the next seven or eight days. Col. Harris' Second Ohio is to night near Hazelgreen, Wolfe county, and part of Col. L. B. Grugsby's Kentucky Regiment is the advance guard of General W. Nelson's command. Col. Norton's Thirty-third Ohio and one other Ohio regiment passed through Mt. Sterling Saturday last Captain Laughlin's Cavalry and Artillery left the same place on the 21st. Yesterday, early, Col. Metcalf's Kentucky Regiment, (sen of the old Stone Hammer,) passed at noon the same point, Col. Marshal's Kentucky Regiment, to-day, at noon, all seeming in great haste, traveling about twenty miles per day. To night, all but the latter regiment, will be in or near Hazelgreen, and about forty miles from Prestonsburg, and I expect by this day week we shall hear of a fight or a foot race. General Nelson is the right man in the right place.
